

Q & A for Brakes Bid

Q: If I choose to not bid on the drums out of fear of not being able to keep my word throughout the life of the bid am I still able to bid on other items assuming that I am able to find some market stability?

A: We have allowed for a space on the bid to state what period of time you may consider being able to provide fixed pricing for before needing to revisit. In some applications due to market volatility, we would see a quarterly market review as potential for acceptance.

If you are not able to provide any fixed term, then you may choose to opt out on bidding that commodity and provide your context for doing so.
